COMMUNICATION REGARDING EXAMINER'S INTERVIEW

Sir:

The purpose of this communication is to provide a summary of recent teleconference between the Examiner and the undersigned in the above-referenced U.S. patent application.

REMARKS

The Examiner in the above referenced case, Ren L. Yan, called the undersigned on Thursday, August 27, 2009 to discuss the status of the pending claims. Examiner Yan explained that the pending claims were allowable over the prior art, but for certain minor issues: (1) claims 1 and 2 required certain clarifications; (2) claim 3 was redundant to claim 1 and should be canceled; (3) claim 4 would need to be revised to change the dependency if claim 3 were canceled; and (4) claims 9 and 10 should be canceled as improper dependent claims. After considering the Examiner's suggestions, the undersigned agreed to contact the client and seek authorization for these changes. The undersigned advised the Examiner, in a telephone call on Tuesday, September 1, 2009, that the Examiner's proposals were acceptable and authorized the Examiner to make such changes by way of an Examiner's Amendment.

Respectfully submitted,
